Wild Atlantic Way

Atlantic Language School takes its name from the ocean, which in Galway is on our doorstep, and also gives its name to the wonderful coastal route - the 'Wild Atlantic Way'.

Galway is the gateway to some of the west coast's most impressive attractions: the famous Cliffs of Moher and the Burren; the Aran Islands, filming location of the award-winning movie The Banshees of Inisherin and home of seal colonies and rare birds; and Connemara, a scenic area of mountains, fjords, castles, heaths, grasslands and woodlands.
